

TJX IRELAND UNLIMITED COMPANY (“TJX IRELAND”) 2025 GENDER PAY STATEMENT

In line with the Irish Government’s gender pay regulatory reporting requirements, the table below sets out TJX Ireland’s 14 June 2025 snapshot date Gender Pay Gap results.

Equal pay means that men and women in comparable positions receive the same pay for doing the same work.

A gender pay gap measures the difference in the average hourly pay of men compared to the average hourly pay of women across all roles, regardless of the nature of their work.

Women	79%	75%	63%	69%
Mean Bonus Gap	24.8%
Median Bonus Gap	11.3%
% of associates receiving a bonus by Gender	Men: 18.9%		Women: 17.2%
% of associates receiving a benefit in kind by Gender ³	Men: 7.6%		Women: 5.6%

Mean: This is the difference between the average male salary compared to the average female salary. This average is calculated by taking the total hourly pay for all our female associates and dividing it by the total number of female associates. We do the same for our male associates and calculate the difference.

Median: If you were to line up all our female associates in order of earnings, the salary of the female in the middle is the median female salary. Comparing the median male salary to the median female salary provides the median gender pay gap.

On the snapshot date, our mean gender pay gap in TJX Ireland was 5.0% while our median gap was 1.9%.

The difference in gender representation across different job functions continues to impact our gender pay calculations. Like many other retailers, we believe our mean gender pay gap is largely due to the greater representation of female associates in our lower and middle paid roles.

The majority of our associates employed in Ireland work in our stores. Many of these roles are part-time and flexible, and they are generally our lower and middle-paid roles. While there are significantly more women than men in our TJX Ireland organisation across all four of our pay quartiles, the representation of women is highest across the quartiles that represent the lower to middle paid roles in our business.

Our bonus and reward programmes are multi-faceted and founded on the principles of teamwork and achievement of our overall business goals rather than individual performance or manager discretion. The bonus gap figures are affected by factors including bonus programme eligibility, stock option activity and company discretionary bonuses, which may vary from year to year⁴.

TJX Ireland continues to strive to foster career growth and aims to support associates in building their careers. We do this in a number of ways, including through career development opportunities, flexible working models and wellbeing support. Our internal recruitment processes aim to provide transparency and accessibility, making it easier for associates to explore opportunities across the business. We also run training programmes focused on inclusive leadership behaviours and overcoming unconscious bias.

² A temporary associate is considered to be any associate with a contract that contains a specific end date.

⁴ The gender bonus gap for 2025 is calculated based on bonuses paid during the 12-month period ending 14 June 2025.

We also offer a range of wellbeing resources, including dedicated policies for menopause and baby loss. Associates also have access to Peppy, a health app offering confidential consultations and support, as well as Unmind and the Retail Trust, which provide resources on mental health, stress management and more.
